

NON LA OF STEEL

VIETNAM AS A SUPERHERO

● NON LA OF STEEL'S POWERS

POPULATION		102,2 M hab.	POP. GROWTH		9,54 %
AREA		310,1 K km²	DENSITY		328 hab/km²
WEALTH		4,7 K $/hab	LITERACY		96,13 %
LARGEST CITY		Ho Chi Minh	URBAN POP.		41,4 %
LIFE EXPECT.		75,05 años	MEDIAN AGE		33,9 años
HIGHEST PEAK		Fansipan	LARGEST RIVER		Mekong
RAINFALL		1,8 K mm/m²

LANGUAGES

Vietnamese

CURRENCY

Dong

GOVERNMENT

One-party system

RELIGION

Traditional Vietnamese

DEMONYM

Vietnamese

● WHAT DEFINES VIETNAM

Rice fields

ARCHITECTURE

Rice fields have profoundly shaped the landscape, cuisine, and rural life of Vietnam. Rice cultivation sustains traditions, communities, and an ancestral relationship with the land and water.

Street food

CUISINE

Street food is part of everyday Vietnamese life, with small stalls and informal restaurants. Eating out is a social and gastronomic experience deeply integrated into urban life.

Motorcycles

CULTURE

Motorbikes dominate daily mobility in Vietnamese cities. Their enormous presence on the streets reflects urban dynamism and is one of the most characteristic images of contemporary Vietnam.

Tet

CULTURE

The Vietnamese New Year is the most important family celebration of the year. It brings generations together, honors ancestors, and combines food, traditions, family gatherings, gifts, and renewal.

Nón lá

HISTORY

The iconic Vietnamese conical hat is historically linked to rural work and protection from the sun and rain. Today it remains one of the country's visual symbols.

Áo dài

CULTURE

The elegant traditional Vietnamese dress combines tradition, beauty, and cultural pride. It is worn especially at celebrations, ceremonies, and important occasions, becoming a recognizable symbol of Vietnamese identity.

● PLACES TO EXPLORE

Hanoi

5.764.980 pop.

Hanoi means 'between two rivers', as it is situated between the Red River and the Black River. This ancient city offers a fascinating blend of history and modernity. Explore the Old Quarter, visit Hoan Kiem Lake and soak up the rich local culture in its temples and markets. A must-see destination in the heart of Asia.

Ho Chi Minh

14.052.713 pop.

Before the Vietnam War (between North and South Vietnam), Ho Chi Minh City was known as Saigon. Following the North's victory over the South, the southern capital was renamed after the Northern leader. Ho Chi Minh City is a major metropolis and the industrial and economic heart of Vietnam, home to large multinational companies, particularly in the textile and technology sectors.

Can Tho

2.071.270 pop.

Can Tho is the largest city in the Mekong Delta. Although it is an inland port, it is of such importance that it has become a major commercial hub in the country. Can Tho is protected by dykes against the Mekong's annual floods.

Hoi An

32.757 pop.

Hoi An is a coastal town in central Vietnam whose architecture reflects a blend of different periods in Vietnamese history: French colonial, Chinese, traditional Vietnamese houses, a Japanese bridge, temples, and so on.

● GEOGRAPHY OF VIETNAM

Mekong

The Mekong Delta in Vietnam is a vast, fertile region where the Mekong River branches into numerous channels and tributaries before flowing into the South China Sea. During the Vietnam War, it was the scene of intense fighting due to its strategic and agricultural importance and because the Viet Cong used it for guerrilla warfare.

Annamite Range

The Annamite Range, the backbone of Vietnam, is a mountain range that stretches along the border with Laos and Cambodia. Historically, it has served as a natural barrier, influencing the distribution of populations and trade routes. Geographically, it features a diversity of ecosystems, ranging from tropical rainforests to rugged peaks.

Red River

The Red River in Vietnam is a vital waterway that flows through the north of the country. Its name refers to the reddish colour of its sediment-laden waters. Historically, it has been of vital importance to agriculture and transport, as well as being the cradle of Vietnamese civilisation.

● EXTRAORDINARY PLACES

Keep exploring at supergeokid.com

● Halong Bay

NATURAL TREASURE

● Cu Chi Tunnels

MINI ADVENTURE

● Cái Răng

MINI ADVENTURE

● Huế

WONDER

● Son Doong Cave

ANOTHER PLANET

All resources are free to use for educational purposes.

Please link to supergeokid.com

If you would like more information about this country, visit supergeokid.com